How does a grid-tie inverter work?

Grid-tie inverters conserve the excess electric power and redirect it into the main power grid. In a case when you consume more electricity than your solar panels are able to produce,the inverter will take it from the main power grid. In the event of a failure and overcast conditions,electric appliances will still work properly.

How much power does a solar inverter use?

The power of such an inverter can reach up to 8000 Watts. To determine the size of the required inverter,you need to calculate the total load of all devices in the power supply grid. To do this,measure the power of each device for 1 hour and summarize the obtained result. Hybrid inverters are most effective for solar systems.
