

Within the framework of Art. 4 of the Energy Efficiency Directive (EED) recast (directive (EU) 2023/1791), Belgium has set an indicative energy efficiency target: a primary energy consumption of 36.5 Mtoe in ...

We have summarised the most important changes for you. The regulations governing the energy performance of buildings in the Brussels Region are contained in the CoBrACE.

Brussels is on the brink of a major transformation. By 2033, the city plans to ban energy-inefficient F and G rated buildings, signaling a monumental challenge and opportunity for ...

The IEA conference in Brussels builds on momentum from the previous edition held in Nairobi in 2024, the first hosted by an African country, where more than 650 delegates reaffirmed the ...

To drive down energy consumption and carbon emissions, the Brussels-Capital Region originally introduced the Ordinance of 7 June 2007 relative to the energy performance certificate ...

EU energy officials, national representatives and private-sector finance groups met in Brussels on Tuesday as part of the European Energy Efficiency Financing Coalition to discuss future ...

This has made it easier for homeowners to ask for financial support and to verify the amount of funding they are entitled to for the improvement of the energy efficiency of their homes.

Brussels Requires Energy-Efficiency Renovations On 23 February 2024, the Government of the Brussels-Capital Region approved an ordinance that prohibits energy-consuming ...

We look at 3 different approaches to energy efficiency regulation in Belgium, deriving from the EU's decarbonization objectives.

Climate Plan - Energy Combustion in residential and commercial buildings is the main source of greenhouse gas emissions in the region. These emissions come from the energy needed to heat and ...

Web: <https://www.capturedmoments.co.za>