

Solar power generation scam in western Guangdong

In a plot twist worthy of a techno-thriller, U.S. energy officials have uncovered rogue communication devices embedded within Chinese-manufactured solar power inverters.

In this type of scam, fraudsters lure homeowners by offering "free" solar panels, claiming that government programs or grants will cover the entire cost of installation. While incentives such as ...

Protect yourself from this solar scam by researching the per-watt cost of solar panels in your area. This helps you understand the average cost, ensuring you don't pay more than necessary.

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. The so-called official offers you an "energy audit" to reduce your utility costs. Or they might try to sign you ...

Every solar panel and battery connected to the U.S. energy grid relies on a device few people ever consider: the power inverter. In May of 2025, U.S. experts found undocumented ...

They are not viable for baseload power--even with $5 trillion in subsidies and two decades of trying. Today, using wind and solar for mass power generation is an artificial political solution that would not ...

It's likely a scam. While there are some government-funded solar programs for households that qualify, "going solar" isn't free. Honest businesses will tell you exactly how much it'll ...

In this study, to address the aforementioned issues, we first estimated air pollutants and carbon emissions reduction from wind and solar power deployments in 2022 in Guangdong Province, ...

Be aware of solar energy scams - everything from scammers pretending to be affiliated with the government or utility company to businesses misrepresenting the cost of improvements, ...

However, rogue communication devices not listed in product documents have been found in some Chinese solar power inverters by U.S experts who strip down equipment hooked up to ...

Solar power generation scam in western Guangdong

Web: <https://www.capturedmoments.co.za>